FIGURES SHOW
U.S. TREASURY
DEFICIT FALLSWOODIN CONFIDENT
SURPLUS WILL RESULT

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—Feeling at last the withering influence of income tax collections, the federal deficit for the current fiscal year is shrinking.

In the six days from September 14 to September 20 it fell from $246,000,000 to $192,000,000, a drop of $54,000,000. And treasury officials estimate that some $40,000,000 of September income tax collections have still to be reported.

In addition, the daily statements of the treasury are showing a surplus for the month thus far. It stood at $36,000,000 on September 20, the last date reported while the comparable period of a year ago showed expenditures were running $102,000,000 above receipts.

Secretary Woodin is highly optimistic regarding the outlook for the remainder of the fiscal year.

He would not be surprised, he has said, if the result is the first surplus since 1930. All the categories of revenue are trending upward, he said, and he expects a big improvement in income tax collections when March and June payments fall due.

Beer Taxes Jump
Supporting his contention, the treasury today made public a compilation of internal revenue receipts for August, showing a total collected of $149,707,708 as compared with $130,732,608 for July and $79,940,310 for August, 1932.

Beer taxes jumped $830,549, totalling $15,049,564 for August as compared with $14,219,015 for July. Gasoline tax receipts rose from $15,799,053 to $22,429,634. Gains were shown as well in tax collections on cigars, cigarettes, capital stock, dividends and other classifications.

If the enormous emergency expenditures in connection with the recovery program are deducted from the figures for the fiscal year thus far, the result shows receipts well above the treasury's ordinary outlays. The statement for September 20 listed total receipts since the fiscal year began as $609,888,897, ordinary expenditures at $535,791,176, emergency expenditures at $266,879,707 and total expenditures of $802,670,883.

By comparison on the same date a year ago, receipts totalled $339,240,057, ordinary expenditures $785,972,531, emergency expenditures $279,832,695 (all through the RFC) and total expenditures $1,065,805,226.

The fiscal year runs from July 1 to June 30. Thus the regular September 15 income tax collections were the first to fall within the current fiscal period. The daily statement for the close of business September 14 listed $25,792,784 in income tax receipts since August 31. On the 10th such receipts totalled $123,523,522 for the month to date. Thus collections for the six days beginning September 15 totalled $97,730,738.

U. S. TO EXTEND
RUSSIA CREDITVast Purchases in This Country Now Under Negotiation

BY R. H. HIPPELHUSER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Direct government credits on vast Soviet purchases loomed strong tonight with the disclosure that Henry Morgenthau, Jr., governor of the farm credit administration, and Peter A. Bogdanov, chairman of the Amtorg Trading corporation, have held several conversations in recent days.

Their meetings—in which the whole field of trade and credit has been explored—were regarded as the most important development in Soviet-American relations, inasmuch as Morgenthau, a trusted aide of the president for several years, was designated to direct personally Russian trade negotiations.

The naming of Morgenthau, announcement of which followed upon the disclosure in New York that the administration expects to recognize Russia before congress convenes, was interpreted here to mean the president is giving close consideration to the Soviet situation.

Huge Cotton Sale
The Morgenthau-Bogdanov discussions have contemplated immediate extensive purchases of cotton, livestock and heavy industrial equipment.

While cotton sales to the Soviet union may amount to around a million bales during the coming year, it was thought likely in well-informed quarters that sales at the outset—in the event of satisfactory credit arrangements—would not exceed half a million bales at the most.

Dairy cattle and cotton are needed badly in the Soviet states. The buying plans for the coming year are intended, in part, to satisfy these needs.

Negotiations have been underway for several weeks for the purchase of $20,000,000 in rolling mill equipment and these, too, have been brought into the scope of the conversations between Morgenthau and Bogdanov.

The equipment is for a sheet steel plant, to turn out automotive bodies.

Ford Adopts
NRA Code
Work Hours

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—Henry Ford, the country's biggest holdout from the NRA, moved today to place his 50,000 employees—now working 40 hours a week—on a work week to comply with the 35-hour maximum provided in the NRA automobile code which Ford has not, and, it is indicated, will not sign.

Employees were notified that, beginning Monday, they will be placed on a 32-hour week, but company officials indicated that within the near future the work-week will be increased to average 35 hours. Plans for the new work-week, they said, are being worked out. One such plan provides for a straight four-day week of eight hours each, and an alternate plan provides a five-day week followed by a three-day week.

Won't Violate Code
Officials said they did not know yet which plan would be adopted.

"Mr. Ford intends to conform with the code by working his men an average of 35 hours a week," said one official, declining the use of his name. "He does not intend to violate the code."

This bore out previous advice from an authoritative source that Ford, who has remained uncommunicative as to his stand on the National Recovery Act, feels he can conform fully to the code provisions without the formality of signing and obtaining the Blue Eagle.

The Ford minimum wage already is above the 43 cents an hour minimum demanded by the NRA automobile code. Officials of the company have stated that the "lowest wage we would consider paying to any Ford employee" is 50 cents an hour. Workers in the production lines recently were given increases in hourly wages, raising the minimum pay to $4.49 a day from $4, and the company indicated that similar increases will be given to non-production workers within a short time.

Although officials have stated that Ford is "only too willing to work for recovery," the private feelings of the motor magnate regarding President Roosevelt's entire recovery program never have been made known. He has consistently declined to be interviewed regarding his position, although many weeks ago he said that if he signed the NRA automobile code, he would have to "live down" to it.

Hiring War Veterans
"I have nothing to say regarding the NRA," has been the motor magnate's only comment.

Meanwhile the hiring of 5,000 World war veterans, authorized by the Ford company, continued at the headquarters of the American Legion in Detroit, only Wayne county veterans being accepted many of the positions. Two thousand men have been recommended for positions with the Ford company, out of thousands who jammed the streets in front of Legion headquarters in an attempt to obtain work.

Interviewing of applicants continued today, with diminished crowds waiting for a hearing, and Legion officials said the employment.

PILOTS MOURN
DEATH OF NEFFStayed by Mail for 63
Hours After Plane
Had Crashed

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—Mail pilots "all along the line" tonight mourned the death in a hospital here today of Harold L. Neff, Cleveland pilot who, badly injured, lay for 63 hours beside his plane in a tamarack swamp because his job was "to stay by the mail."

Neff, whose plane crashed early Saturday enroute from Chicago to Cleveland in a heavy storm, was not brought to the hospital until Monday evening. He suffered a fractured arm and leg and doctors said the "infectious reaction" from his experience brought death at 6:30 a. m. today. At first he was believed to be on the way to recovery.

The body was taken to Cleveland, where funeral arrangements will be announced. The filer's wife, Helen, was with him when he died.

Found in the swamp by three boys, Neff told hospital attaches that he had started to crawl through the brush to a farmhouse a mile away, when he remembered that "it was my job to stay by the mail." Wrapping himself in the folds of his parachute, he awaited rescuers, but was not found for nearly three days. During that time he had no food or water. He told of seeing planes fly overhead in search for him, as he lay beside the wreckage of his ship.

STATE MOVES FOR CHEAPER,
BETTER BEER12 OUNCE MUG FOR NICKLE GRANTED
APPROVAL

Lansing, Sept. 22 (AP)—State agencies today moved in the direction of cheaper and better beer and began to lay plans for the sale and distribution of hard liquor after the repeal of the 18th amendment.

The executive committee of the state liquor control commission removed restrictions which prohibited the sale of more than eight ounces of beer for a nickel. It decreed that from now on those restaurants, beer gardens, hotels and others serving beer on the premises may dish up twelve ounce schupers at that price if they wish. There was nothing mandatory about the order. It simply made the minimum glass that may be sold for five cents twelve instead of eight ounces.

Consider Hard Liquor

At the same time the committee decided to bear down in an effort to eliminate "green" beer and to bring beer prices down. An order was issued that after December 1 beer must be aged at least six weeks before it is offered for sale. After December 15 it must be at least eight weeks old. Breweries were informed they should inform the commission by the end of this month of intended price reductions. Within a few weeks, it was indicated, the commission will fix beer prices.

A sub-committee of the legislative council met here today to consider changes in the state liquor laws to permit the manufacture and sale of whiskey and other hard beverages. Its first act was to appoint a special committee to go to Quebec and study the control system of that province.

Hard liquor is sold there from government stores, but beer and cocktails may be obtained in taverns and hotels. Those who will take the junket trip are Frank A. Picard, chairman of the liquor control commission, representatives Carl Delano, Kalamazoo and George H. Schoenhals, St. Johns and Senator Edward B. McKenna, Detroit. They plan to leave next Tuesday. The sub-committee will reconvene here October 4 to listen to their report.

COMB CHICAGO
FOR SIX KILLERSPoliceman Slain as Bandits
Escape With Mail Sacks

Chicago, Sept. 22 (AP)—Ten Thousand policemen, ordered not to restrain their trigger-fingers, combed the Chicago area today for a sextet of desperadoes who executed an apparently profitless mail robbery and killed a policeman.

Authorities in adjacent states were asked to be on the alert for the machine gunners who early this morning waylaid two bank messengers and two guards in the financial district of the "loop," snatched two bags of mail, and sped away in an automobile from which belched a curtain of smoke.

Wrecking their automobile a short distance from the scene, they shot and killed one of two policemen who rushed up to investigate the crash, commandeered another car, and disappeared.

Following one of the welter of clues found in an automobile abandoned by the killers, police arrested for questioning Charles Phillips, owner of the garage where the machine was purchased.

Chief of Detectives William H. Schoenberg said he was convinced Phillips "knew more than he told" concerning "J. J. Rosenberg," who bought the automobile some time ago. Phillips denied knowledge of the crime.

Authorities held varying theories concerning the possible identity.

Rests In Hospital

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Charles M. Schwab, 71-year-old chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel corporation has retired to Doctors' hospital for a complete rest, it became known today.

A statement issued by the hospital said that the veteran steel magnate was merely suffering from "fatigue." He entered the hospital last week.

Kidnap Foes Ignore Death Threats

In a huddle that boded no good for the alleged kidnapers, Charles F. Urschel, left, their victim who paid $200,000 for his release; Joseph B. Keenan, center, special assistant U. S. attorney general in charge of Uncle Sam's anti-crime war; and Herbert K. Hyde, right, U. S. district attorney for Oklahoma, are pictured at the trial of Harvey J. Bailey and 11 others in Oklahoma City for the Urschel kidnaping. Keenan and Hyde have received death threats from George (Machine Gun) Kelly, Bailey lieutenant still at liberty.

substantial portions of the proceeds of processing taxes on basic farm commodities would be made available to finance purchases, supplementing federal relief funds.

These taxes are now being levied on wheat and cotton but others are to be levied soon on swine, tobacco and possibly dairy products, corn and rice.

Instead of $75,000,000 in purchases, already planned, the outlay may greatly exceed this figure during the current fiscal year, officials said. They took upon the relief outlet as an opportunity to take up the slack in disposition of American farm products resulting from the fall in exports. Meanwhile they will continue efforts to push increased sales abroad.

Secretary Wallace designated three men to direct the program: General W. I. Westervelt, director of marketing and processing; Chester C. Davis, production director; and Dr. L. H. Bean, economic adviser of the A. A. A.

The first surplus products to be distributed will be pork acquired by the farm agency in its emergency program for reducing the number of swine on farms because of a shortage of feed.

The first pork shipments will go to Montana with four carloads of 30,000 pounds each, requested by relief authorities at Butte. Another carload has been requested by Billings, Mont., relief authorities. These shipments are to be made within a week.

Progressive Attack
Approximately 20,000,000 pounds of pork will have been cured within the next two weeks and will be ready for shipment. Shipments to other points will be started within ten days. In all, about 100,000,000 pounds of pork will be available.

Purchases of dairy products, beef and cotton products will be started as soon as arrangements for distribution are completed by Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator. A processing tax on dairy products is now under consideration and some purchases from this fund may be made and coupled with production control plans now being worked out for that industry.

Peck said the program "is a real attack on the dual problem of people in need of food and over-

Cheaper Freight
Rates Recommended

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—A general downward revision of rates on freight hauled partly by railroad and partly by water across the Great Lakes was recommended today to the interstate commerce commission by two of its examiners.

William J. Koebel and Arthur S. Parker advocated that the commission reject a revision of a large group of rates proposed by the railroads themselves and substitute an even lower series, especially to cities in the northwest and between those cities and the east.

The railroad proposal was made as a result of the general revision of eastern and western freight rates announced more than a year ago.

Consider Site For
New Stock Exchange

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Wall Street today continued to wait with eager interest for an announcement regarding the site of the New Jersey stock exchange, but it was indicated tonight the committee in charge of the new organization might not reach a definite decision for another day or two.

In some brokerage quarters belief prevailed that the exchange's sponsors would choose Jersey City, probably the old passenger terminal of the Pennsylvania railroad just across the Hudson from downtown New York.

St. Louis, Sept. 22 (AP)—The death list rose to 149 in the "sleeping sickness" epidemic today with four more deaths reported.

Exploring Party In
Greenland Is Safe

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—Prof. William H. Hobbs, head of the university department of zoology, late today was informed that a Michigan exploring party in Greenland, headed by Prof. Ralph L. Belknap, of the university staff, had been reported safe at Upernivik, Greenland.

It had been feared, Prof. Hobbs said, that the party would be snowed in for the winter at some inland point. The group of three has spent more than a year in Greenland making a survey of the Greenland ice cap and studying glacial formations there.

MAYORS URGED
TO SEEK FUNDSRoosevelt Asks Cities
to Push Public Work
Applications

Chicago, Sept. 22 (AP)—Mayors of American cities were invited by President Roosevelt today to send in their requests for shares in the $3,300,000,000 federal public works fund, and were promised prompt action.

His message was read to 80 municipal executives attending the United States conference of mayors just as they finished listening to charges that procrastination in distributing the public works funds had put national recovery in the doldrums.

"We are at the point now where the states and municipalities interested in public works projects should come forward quickly and proposals which will give immediate work to their unemployed," the president's message said.

Reply to Critics
"We want to cooperate to the fullest possible extent and I assure you that after your projects have been passed upon by the state advisory boards they will be acted upon in Washington with a minimum of delay."

"We will match speed with you. The money is available, and we want to put men to work."

President Roosevelt said that of the $3,300,000,000 fund, about $1,600,000,000 has been allocated.

The president's message was a direct reply to the objections many mayors had brought to the conference against delays in distributing the funds for public works.

Among the chief objectors was Mayor John F. Dore of Seattle. "The impetus of recovery in the Pacific northwest is collapsing," Mayor Dore had told the conference just before the Roosevelt telegram was read by Mayor James M. Curley of Boston.

"The reason is that we can't get help from the public works fund. I don't believe the president knows it, but the NRA so far as the Pacific northwest is concerned has ended."

Dore went on the charge that lack of confidence by certain federal authorities in the honesty of local officials has caused the delay. He said Seattle had a fund of $800,000 for public works, but was unable to obtain assurance from the public works board that the federal government would provide an additional 50 per cent of the fund, as provided by the public works bill.

Mayor Curley, president of the conference, said provisions placed in the public works bill to safeguard against possible fraud or suspicion of scandal—and not lack of government cooperation—was responsible for the delay.

Dr. Novy Made Dean
Of Medical School

Ann Arbor, Sept. 22 (AP)—Dr. Frederick G. Novy, director of the bacteriology laboratories and chairman of the executive committee of the University of Michigan medical school, was appointed dean of the medical school for one year today by the board of regents in its September meeting.

Dr. Novy, one of the most distinguished scientists on the Michigan faculty, will reach the retiring age of 70 in December, 1934.

Prof. A. H. Lovell, assistant dean of the engineering college, was appointed secretary and assistant dean, combining the two offices. As secretary, he succeeds Prof. Louis A. Hopkins, recently appointed director of the summer session.

Autumn Begins At

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—If you want to be precise about this thing, summer ends and autumn begins at 7:01 a. m. tomorrow.

The figure is that of Clarence J. Root who, as government meteorologist, is time-keeper for the seasons here.

The autumnal equinox falls between Sept. 20 and 23, he explained, and always comes on the day when the sun is directly above the Equator at noon.

CHARGES WILL BE FILED FOR
ASSAULT CASERAYMOND ROBERTS
OF RAPID RIVER
ACCUSED

Charges of felonious assault will be filed soon against Raymond Roberts, 22, Rapid River, who attacked and seriously injured Conservation Officer Herman Leisner of Escanaba when he placed him under arrest for violation of the game laws.

Roberts and his hunting companion, Christ Thomas, 35, also of Rapid River, will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Geo. W. Carr Wednesday on charges of illegal carrying of guns and headlighting. After the hearing, the more serious charge will be pressed against Roberts, it was learned yesterday.

While making a night patrol on the Stonington road, Conservation Officers Leisner and Charles Coon encountered a truck, on the back platform of which were two men, one of whom had a large flashlight in his hand, according to the game warden. The light was being flashed from one side of the road to another.

One Man Escapes
The truck kept ahead of the warden's car. It took to a side road and finally came back to the Stonington road again near Alton, while Leisner and Coon continued pursuing it. On Highway 18-2, near the old Dead Man's Curve location, the warden's car overtook the truck and forced them to edge over to the side of the road and finally stop in a ditch.

The two men on the rear of the truck jumped off and started to make a getaway on foot. Officer Coon chased after them and managed to capture Thomas, but the other man escaped and is still at liberty.

Officer Leisner commanded Roberts, the driver of the truck, to step down on the road.

"Who in the hell are you?" Roberts is reported to have retorted.

"I'm a conservation officer," Leisner is said to have answered, as he walked to the truck. Roberts, still seated behind the wheel, is alleged to have shoved one foot outward, hitting Leisner in the stomach and causing him to reel backward.

At first, Leisner felt no ill effects from the kick, but while riding toward Escanaba, he began to feel intense pain and was compelled to stop at Kipling and summon a physician. The warden was confined to his bed throughout Wednesday and Thursday, but was able to be around with some difficulty yesterday.

The two guns and flashlight, belonging to the trio, were seized. When arraigned on the headlighting and illegal carrying of firearms charges, Roberts and Thomas pleaded not guilty and demanded a hearing.

This is the first instance of an assault upon a conservation officer to occur in this county in several years. In Alger county last year there was a similar incident.

The case has aroused many friends of the well known conservation officer, who has been in the service for more than a quarter of a century. Vigorous prosecution of the case is anticipated.

First President
Of Development
Bureau Succumbs

Ontonagon, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—Thornton A. Green, 59, for many years prominent in the lumbering business in the upper peninsula, died today in Fond du Lac, Wis., after a heart attack. Mr. Green, who resided in Ontonagon 30 years, left here ten years ago and went to Natchez, Miss., to operate a large cattle and pecan ranch, but continued to maintain a summer home near here.

He was the first president of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau when it was organized 23 years ago.

About two weeks ago while living in Ontonagon he participated in the upper peninsula tennis tournament in Iron Mountain and played through to the finals, despite the fact that he was the oldest player entered.

He leaves his wife, two sons, Thornton, Jr., of Natchez, Miss., and McMillan, of Mosinee, Wis., and a brother, Harrison Green, Milwaukee, attorney.

OPEN HEARING ON NEWS CODE

Reporters Ask to Come Under Provisions of Hours, Wages

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—A code for daily newspapers was explained today to the N. R. A. by the American Newspaper Publishers' association and immediately statements were made that it contained child labor and was unfair to the reporters and editorial employees who supply the news.

The A. N. P. A. through Elisha Hanson, general counsel, and a number of officials, contended that the constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press gave newspapers the right to stay out of the recovery program if they so choose.

The publishers said, too, that a shorter work week than the 40 hours they proposed would hasten the failure of many newspaper establishments they described as on the verge of bankruptcy.

A claim for shorter hours and other benefits for newspaper reporters and editorial staff men was presented by representatives of the Guild of New York Newspapersmen and Women.

Alexander Lindsey, their chief spokesman, speaking also for editorial organizations in Newark, N. J., Boston and Buffalo, asked a 40-hour five-day week for editorial workers exempted from the minimums established by the A. N. P. A. code.

He also suggested minimum wages of $20 a week for those with less than one year's experience, $30 for one to two years and $40 for two years or more.

He asked that men who had worked three years for one newspaper be allowed a full month's notice before being discharged, scaling this notice up one month for each year's service to six months for a man employed eight years.

Heywood Brown, columnist for Scripps-Howard newspapers, explaining he was a member of the Guild, told Deputy Administrator Lindsay Rogers:

"Elisha Hanson, counsel for the publishers, has suggested that the proposed code deals with the freedom of the press. Mr. Hanson seemed to feel that this freedom concerned only the publishers. I suggest that it is also a matter of importance to the men and women who write the stories which appear in the newspapers."

"We make the newspapers; the publishers just get them out. I used to be a newspaperman myself."

James Kieran of the New York Times argued for an employee representative on the board administering the code and Morris Watson of the New York staff of the Associated Press, said "press associations should be brought in under this code." Both Kieran and Watson are Guild members.

(Note: Watson spoke for the Guild of New York Newspapersmen and Women and not for the Associated Press or its employees.)

Courtenay Dillwilde of the national child labor committee assailed provisions of the code that permit the employment of children to deliver newspapers.

"It is the intent of the National Child Labor Act to eliminate child labor," he said.

Lindberghs Arrive In Soviet Russia

Leninград, U. S. S. R., Sept. 22 (AP)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived today from Helsinki, Finland, and learned the finest suite of rooms in the National hotel at Moscow has been reserved for them by Soviet officials.

The colonel told newspapermen "we don't know yet just what we are going to do. We haven't had a chance to discuss our plans."

"We have come here purely out of interest in the Soviet Union and our trip can be regarded only as a friendly visit," he said.

He asked, however, whether his plane could land in the river at Moscow.

supplies on farms." He said that supplies distributed under the plan would be in addition to sums being spent by relief agencies for food and clothing.

He announced that in approving marketing agreements covering fluid milk distribution in metropolitan milksheds he would follow the policy of authorizing sales of milk for relief agencies below fixed prices. Whether any purchases of milk will be made has not been determined but products made from milk, such as butter and cheese, will be distributed.

The long-range aspects of the program and its bearing on supplying an outlet for farm surpluses will be handled by Bean. They will be worked out on the theory that in modern industry there will continue to be a relief and unemployment problem irrespective of the extent to which the administration's recovery hopes may be realized.

SENATOR DIGS UP BANK FACTS

Couzens Will Take Detroit Situation to Floor of Senate

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—United States Senator James Couzens is going to carry to the floor of the senate "several aspects" of this city's banking situation which he finds objectionable.

In his third public statement since the close of the one-man grand jury which for three months investigated the closing of two national banks here, the senator today carried on his battle for banking reform, and urged a "united, intelligent and militant public opinion" toward bringing to light facts behind the closing of the banks.

"In my nearly 20 years of public life I have not stood upon dignity in my efforts to eradicate evil in industry, banking and public service," said the senator's statement. "I do not now propose to stand on dignity and thereby prevent any possible remedies there may be to preclude a recurrence of these unfortunate conditions."

His Fight Not Over

In a previous statement Couzens had declared that he was "prevented" from giving further sensational evidence to the grand jury by Judge Harry B. Keelan, the one-man jury, who rendered a finding that there was no criminality in the conduct of bank officials, and that the banks were solvent when they were closed in February. Both banks, the First National Bank-Detroit and the Guardian National Bank of Commerce, now are under federal receiverships. Forty per cent, or $121,000,000 has been paid to depositors, and another payoff based on Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans is being sought.

The senator said he would return to Washington Oct. 2 to attend hearings by the senate committee on banking, and at that time will confer with J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, on the Detroit bank situation. In the next session of congress, he said, he will take to the floor of the senate "several aspects" of the Detroit situation.

Principal objections of the senator to banking practices here have been the formation of holding companies for the two National banks and other affiliates. He charged the closing of the banks due to an "orgy of consolidations and high finance," and declared the holding companies were organized for the purpose of getting around the intent of the law. He criticized Judge Keelan for his decision that the two banks were solvent, and repeatedly charged that officials of the institutions knew many months prior to the state bank holiday in February that the banks were in an unsound condition.

Consolidation Of Railroads Studied By Joseph Eastman

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—Consolidation of all railroads into a small group of great trading channels is being studied by Joseph B. Eastman, coordinator of transportation in an effort to achieve operating economies.

This was announced today by Eastman who said in a statement the railroads themselves in the eastern, southern and western regions had formed organizations to investigate savings that could be obtained through joint use of facilities, pooling of train service and other means.

Eastman has selected the Prince plan as a typical one to study. It was written by J. W. Berringer, 3rd, now chief examiner of the railroad section of the reconstruction corporation, and presented to President Roosevelt last winter when the railroad situation was being studied at the White House.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 22 (AP)—The Wisconsin football squad had a comparatively light workout today, Coach Spears limiting the scrimmage to a bare quarter hour. Most of the practice session was devoted to running down on punts. The tackling was under par and drew criticism from Spears. Harry Pike, fullback, continued to improve on punting, getting well over fifty yards on many boots.

4-POWER ARMS ACCORD NEAR

U. S., France, England and Italy Working Out Arrangements

Paris, Sept. 22 (AP)—A close approach to a general agreement between the United States, France, Great Britain and Italy for the limitation and control of armaments, it was authoritatively learned, was made today in talks between negotiators of the first three powers.

A French official reported "substantial progress" had been made toward the forming of a solid front of the four nations at the resumption of the world disarmament conference, with the four powers on a common ground of understanding concerning the disarmament question.

It was learned that apparently only the outstanding point of sanctions remained to be solved. France has been furthering the setting up of penalties against any nation guilty of a breach of any disarmament agreement which might be reached.

Division Agreed Upon

Great Britain was understood to be holding back from such a plan. Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large, told both the French and the British representatives that the United States will not join in the imposing of any such penalties. This stand was made plain in a conference which lasted one hour and a half.

France, it was said, showed a willingness for her great army to be substantially reduced step by step in line with the conversion of the German Reichswehr (standing army) into a militia.

American quarters indicated that the role of the United States would be that of brooding Europe into settling the details and signing a convention at Geneva.

The four powers, it was added, agreed that the convention should be divided into two parts. The first would comprise a transition period during which an inventory of the existing arms and man of power would begin preparatory to transforming the armies into militia and to cease arming. The second would include the disarmament phase when the nations would start abolishing certain weapons.

The American quarters said there are a lot of hurdles yet, but the more fact that the European situation has become so serious is bringing about decisions which we could not get otherwise.

Sugar Plant Opens At Menominee Oct. 4

Menominee, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—The Superior Sugar Refining company, successor to the Menominee River Sugar company, will operate the local beet sugar plant starting October 4, for the first time since 1927. G. W. McCormick, vice president of the company, announced today. The plant will employ 340 men on three eight-hour shifts and will operate into December.

Upper peninsula sugar beet acreage contracted by the Superior company is the largest in the history of the local plant, built in 1903. Wisconsin and lower Michigan beets also will be used, the harvest to begin next week.

$4,000,000 Lock At Soo Being Planned

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 22 (AP)—Stopping here on his inspection cruise of the Great Lakes, Secretary of War George H. Dern today told of plans for a new lock here to cost $4,000,000, as part of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway project.

Secretary Dern said the proposed lock would replace the Weitzel lock, the first of four built here by the government. Now obsolete, the Weitzel lock has not been used for years.

The secretary and his party are en route to Montreal after visiting upper lake ports on the U. S. engineers tug C. B. Sears. Col. Edward M. Markham, engineer for the Great Lakes division, was in the party here. Enroute to Detroit, the party will fish for bass in the lower St. Mary's river.

ment office would be closed until Monday, when work of interviewing again would continue until the quota of 5,000 is filled.

The Ford company said that the addition of the 5,000 veterans each of whom is required to present evidence of a "fine war record," would place their employment roster at 50,000 men.

HOPE TO QUASH KIDNAP CHARGE

Government Rests Case Against Defendants in Urschel Affair

Oklahoma City, Sept. 22 (AP)—Four days of pounding away at the 12 persons accused of conspiring in the kidnapping of Charles F. Urschel, wealthy oil man, ended late today as the government rested and let the defense begin its counter-offensive.

James H. Mathers, chief counsel for Harvey Bailey, alleged "brains" of the conspiracy, hastened to get before the court almost a score of motions seeking dismissal of the charges on the contention the government failed to connect Bailey definitely with the kidnapping.

D. C. Patterson, of Oklahoma City, a handwriting expert, was the last prosecution witness. He identified specimens of Albert Bates' signature in a final attempt of the prosecution to connect Bates, a defendant, with seven men from Minneapolis and St. Paul in an alleged conspiracy to dispose of the $200,000 paid for Urschel's freedom.

Evidence Admitted

Attorneys for the seven busily prepared additional motions seeking dismissal of charges against their clients.

District Judge Edgar S. Vaughn today upset the defense plans of seven Minneapolis and St. Paul defendants by ruling that government testimony about the disposition of the $200,000 ransom was admissible as evidence.

"We had hoped for a directed verdict to acquit," said A. M. Cary, Minneapolis lawyer.

Cary objected strenuously as the first testimony involving his clients started. Ralph Hagen, Hennepin state bank manager, had begun to tell how the bank came in possession of $1,500 in $20 bills that had been paid to Urschel's kidnappers.

"The conspiracy may continue until all of the ransom paid has been located," Judge Vaughn held.

The defense argued that the conspiracy ended when Urschel was ransomed and returned to his family in Oklahoma City the night of July 31, but to no avail.

Judge Vaughn's ruling set a precedent as the Urschel trial is the first under the new "Lindbergh" law passed by congress last year.

Government witnesses today traced $5,500 paid for liquor by a "fellow named Collins, from the south," through twin cities rum running circles.

Principal testimony came from R. C. Coulter, federal agent at St. Paul, who arrested the seven.

REVOLT FLARES AGAIN IN CUBA

Grau's Administration Faces Entangled Problems

BY EDMUND A. CHESTER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Havana, Sept. 22 (AP)—Already entangled in a maze of political, military and economic problems, the government of Ramon Grau San Martin faced a new menace tonight as armed rebellion flared in at least two sectors, including the adjacent province of Matanzas.

While his best political minds sought to find a way out of the deadlock between Grau and his leading opponents, the army of students and soldiers sought to suppress the outbreak.

A formula which Havana university professors hoped would placate the political situation was drawn up and submitted to the opposition factions for consideration. It authoritatively was said to include a provision that Grau remain as chief executive, but with sharply restricted powers, including one that he could not demand the resignation of cabinet members.

Cut Off Communication

The plan also was said to include provisions for the naming of a concentration cabinet responsible to an opposition Junta representing all factions.

Rebels estimated to number 800 were moving through Matanzas province, cutting communication lines as they headed for the town of Colon, in the center of the province, said reports from that area.

To the east, Juan Blas Hernandez, most picturesque of Cuban rebels, was in the hills with an army estimated variously at from a dozen to 2,000 men. After clashing with government forces near Moron yesterday, the rebel chief, according to reports received here, was adding recruits and splitting his forces into small bands.

It was by this method he was able to annoy the troops of former President Gerardo Machado two years ago.

There were contradictory reports about the activities of Major Lico Dalan in Oriente province. Some said he had seized and was holding the town of Gibara. Others said he had not taken up arms against the government at all.

The name of the leader of the Matanzas rebels was not immediately learned.

city of the bandit group. Maps of the nation, smudged by fingerprints above the Kansas City-Oklahoma region, were found in one of the abandoned automobiles. This induced Capt. Patrick Collins to the belief that the robbery was perpetrated by members of the Verne Miller-Harvey Bailey band of southwestern bandits.

Chief Schoemaker, however, said he thought the crime was committed by local gangsters.

A "mistaken enterprise," W. C. Bachman, assistant deputy governor of the federal reserve bank, called it.

"One bag contained financial periodicals and newspapers, the other cancelled checks," he said. "The leader of the gang is probably hearing about it right now from his associates."

In the car abandoned at the scene of the shooting was found a collection of license plates, assorted ammunition and a first aid kit containing bloody bandages. Since there was no shooting during the holdup, police theorized one of the men had been wounded in the wreck.

Inflation Needed By NRA, Says Borah

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 22 (AP)—A declaration that "inflation is indispensable to the success of the NRA," was made today by Senator William E. Borah, in a telegram to the public relations bureau of the recovery administration agreeing to deliver an address in its behalf in Washington later this year.

Asked by Charles Michaelson of the NRA's public relations bureau to speak for the recovery administration, the senator said:

"The National Recovery Act is now the law of the land and the policy of the government, and if I can contribute in any way whatever to its success I want to do so."

"But farm prices and the problems they present convince me that inflation is indispensable to the success of the NRA. I should want to feel free to discuss inflation as a part of the program."

Civil Service Exams Planned for TVA Jobs

Arthur E. Morgan

Washington—It took the Tennessee Valley Authority quite a while to get its publicity machinery organized. When it did get going, however, it certainly made up for lost time.

"Handouts," "newspapers" for prepared publicity releases as distinguished from news conveyed by word of mouth in press conferences with folks in authority, from the President down, showered newspapers' desks.

One of the bits of information conveyed in this way outlined the employment of the TVA. It reflected clearly the pressure for jobs that Chairman Morgan of the TVA board and his associates have been under as they sought to work out detailed plans for the undertaking.

There are no legal restrictions in the act as to civil service requirements for TVA workers or as to salaries. It was known from the outset that Dr. Morgan and his associates thought it desirable to fill the ranks very largely with residents or former residents of the general region of the great social and economic experiment. And Capitol Hill was crowded with senators and representatives from that area even after congress quit, all under pressure to find government jobs for constituents.

To meet the demand, TVA worked out a new deal of its own with the civil service commission. It requisitioned the services of the commission to help pick its "non-professional" workers. Skilled or unskilled, all such must pass civil service examinations, Dr. Morgan announced.

That was a blow to the lads "on the hill" who had been at such pains to leave the way open for non-civil service employment even though coupling with TVA matters novel and seemingly drastic legislation against the use of political pull either in original appointments or promotions.

"Professional" employees of TVA will not be required to take competitive examinations, but they must satisfy the civil service commission that they have at least the minimum requirements of the civil service grade equivalent to the job for which they are picked.

And having thus shoved the business of testing qualifications over to the commission, the TVA visiting speakers. There will be special singing also. Services beginning at 7:30. Wednesday evening service at Indian Reservation.
Thursday evening service at Trues school, Cornell.
Everyone is invited to attend all services.

NOT A HOLD-UP, JUST OFFICERS

New Device to Identify Delta Sheriff's Staff
on Night Patrol

When Sheriff William Miron or one of his staff pulls up at the side of a motorist at night and orders him to stop there will no longer be any question as to the identity of the officers, and they are not likely to be taken for highwaymen out for a holdup.

The sheriff has equipped his two patrol cars with a special device which enables the officer to immediately identify himself. It consists of a light mounted on the right front fender and operated from the dash. When the sheriff's car comes alongside to "flag down" an automobile, the control on the dash is pulled, and this turns an illuminated signal toward the motorist at the officer's right, the same movement automatically flashing on the light in the fender signal, revealing the words "STOP, SHERIFF'S CAR" in bright white letters showing through a danger-red background. When not in use, the device is turned toward the hood of the car so that the signal is not visible and the light automatically turns off.

On one occasion recently it is reported that officers attempted to stop a car and notify the driver that his rear light was not burning. In the darkness, the motorist did not recognize the officers driving alongside and speeded up to make his escape, thinking that he was about to become the victim of a holdup. The new device installed on the two sheriff's department cars is intended to do away with any such confusion and make it easier for the officers when they are called upon to drive alongside a motorist and "flag him down."

Brown Will Head St. Ignace Bank

St. Ignace—Congressman P. M. Brown said Wednesday that necessary requirements had been met and that only the government's approval is needed to open the First National Bank here.

The First National closed at the time the state banking holiday was declared, and although it subsequently released five per cent of deposits it could not open. A plan was evolved, however, and approved by the government, whereby the depositors waived 75 per cent of the total deposits and the stockholders pooled $50,000 to meet requirements asked by the government. The requirements have been fulfilled.

Officers who will have charge of the First National at its opening are P. M. Brown, president; Henry P. Hossack, vice president, and Herbert Powers, cashier. Mr. Powers served as conservator.

The opening of the bank depends entirely on governmental action in the matter.

Press Want Ads Cost Little, Accomplish Much.

announcement added that its personnel offices in Washington, Knoxville, Chattanooga and Muscle Shoals would interview no more non-professional applicants except when it summoned them from lists provided by the civil service commission.

Not Much Help
Altogether, TVA began to look like a net loss to senators and congressmen whose own reelection may depend on finding jobs for constituents.

EDITORIAL

LAISSEZ FAIRE ENDS

ANNOUNCEMENT from Washington that Gen. Hugh S. Johnson has commenced the task of shifting the national recovery administration from an emergency to a permanent organization again sounds the death-knell of the era of free competition.

With the honeymoon period of the Roosevelt administration over, conservative newspapers, such as the Chicago Tribune, have begun their bombardment upon the president's policies, attacking particularly the new experimental ventures in the regulation of industry and agriculture. Alarm is expressed over the expansion of bureaucracy in Washington and the tinkering of warning is pointed toward the government's increased meddling into the affairs of private business.

No matter how much certain interests may sigh for the good old days of "rugged individualism," it now appears plain that this country has advanced into a new stage of political thought, and there will be no return, if the government and the people can prevent it, to the unrestricted laissez faire system. The aims of the new order will be the establishment of those governmental safeguards, which will endeavor to the extent of human ability, to provide against cyclical occurrence of depressions and unemployment, uncontrolled speculation, and the other abuses to mankind.

Such a program of regulation, however, creates governmental bureaucracy. Its success depends upon whether the new benefits that are provided will outweigh the evils that accompany it.

WOODLOT PLANNED

PURCHASE of four tracts of land in the Danforth district for use as a municipal woodlot is contemplated by the Escanaba city council.

The woodlot was established as a municipal institution a couple years ago in the efforts of the council to reduce the costs of providing fuel to the homes of the unemployed. Besides being helpful in promoting government economy, the woodlot idea appears worthwhile in giving the recipients of welfare relief an opportunity to help themselves.

The old adage, "God helps those who help themselves," still holds good in this age, even though it is a time when the public is relying upon government for the means of its daily living more than ever before.

SUNDAY FOOTBALL

THE editor of the Ironwood Daily Globe has penned some editorial criticism against the board of education of his city because that body does not appear to be cognizant of the public's demand for Sunday football.

The reason behind the writing of the editorial is that the Ironwood school board decided to charge the Polar Bears, a semi-professional football team, the rental fee of $40 per game for the use of high school athletic field, which rate the editor feels is excessive in view of probable gate receipts.

"It has been the opinion of the Daily Globe for many years that professional or semi-professional football cannot hold a candle to a good high school contest," the Globe editor writes. "But not all football fans are of the same opinion and not all football fans can attend Saturday games of the high school and junior college, no matter how anxious they are to do so. The Sunday games fill the bill for them and the attitude of the board of education, which has all the ear-marks of being hostile to the Polar Bear organization, is not for the best of the community."

The situation in Ironwood has its parallel in other upper peninsula communities. However, in Green Bay, the Wisconsin city to which the Packers has brought fame and many good cash customers on Sundays during the football season, there seems to be a meeting of minds between the board of education and the management of the famous gridiron organization. It makes for better feeling all around.

A GOOD BOARD

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of the appointment of the six members and chairman of the Escanaba compliance board of the National Recovery Administration.

The members are representative citizens of the community, all possessing the highly necessary tact, experience and ability for these important public duties.

It must be borne in mind that the compliance board is not an autocratic organization, which seeks to impose undue hardships upon the employers of the community. The board will be of equal assistance to the employer and employee. It will endeavor to create a better understanding of the purposes of the NRA program, thereby reducing the possibility for friction between capital and labor. Justice and reasonableness will be exercised all along the way.

The compliance board is not clothed with any authority to take the Blue Eagle away from any recalcitrant employer, the Press wishes to remind again. Such authority rests solely with the administration in Washington.

ON HIRING TEACHERS

THE Press is in receipt of a communication from an Escanaba citizen, who demands to know why it is that some home town teachers are refused positions in our public school system and outsiders are given the preference.

At the outset, it must be explained that the board of education has always followed a policy of employing local teachers, provided they have the necessary training, experience and ability for the particular place to be filled. And it would be unethical and unfair for the board to remove outside teachers, who have served faithfully and efficiently, in order to make room for local men and women. When ordinary vacancies occur, however, the board always gives careful consideration to the applications from Escanaba teachers.

Probably the easier way out for our board of education would be to submit to the pressure that is oftentimes brought to bear upon them from local sources. That the board has chosen instead to look after the larger interest—the education of the children in our school—is commendable. Our boys and girls are entitled to the best training that available money can obtain for them, and the best way to achieve this end is by the hiring of the best teachers, whether they are from Escanaba or outside communities. This should always be the guiding principle.

LOVE OF EVE

(By NEA Service)

BY LUCY WALLING

CHAPTER XII

But Eve did not give up her job at Bixby's next morning. Instead she burned the letter she had written to Dick.

"I'll have to keep away from Mrs. Penney and Marya," she decided. They always put me in a sentimental mood. After all there's not more reason why I should give up my work than that Dick should give up his."

It would be foolish, she assured herself, to give up the comforts she enjoyed in Lake City for the privations under which she was sure Dick lived in Pine Forest.

In mid-December he wrote to her: "When it snows up here it snows and stays snowed! We have had to burrow our way through the drifts for several weeks now and there's no knowing how long it will be before this blanket of snow thaws. We have had some difficulty getting over the hills to the job because the road is almost impassable at this time of the year. Fortunately though we work under cover. We've had enough men on the job to make considerable progress. The two buildings are separated by a patch of woods so I have to make frequent trips back and forth, keeping an eye on both jobs at practically the same time. By night I'm pretty tired and don't need to be rocked to sleep."

Dick did not seem to mind the hardships of this life in the woods. Indeed he did not even consider such primitive surroundings as hardships. He never wrote to Eve that he missed her and she failed to read between the lines.

Though each letter always concluded, "with all my love—Dick," Eve wanted more proof than that of his steadfast devotion.

She was disappointed that he made no reference to the coming holidays. Her resentment grew until she felt she had a real grievance because he failed to show concern over the Christmas ahead. The day was to fall on Wednesday and Eve felt that Dick should come home to spend a week or 10 days. Her better judgment told her it would be a long expensive trip to make and that Dick's work was too important for him to leave it to others at this time. She knew that the wives of some of the men who were working with him had gone to Pine Forest and were making homes for their husbands there. Eve wondered how Dick explained the absence of his own wife who remained in Lake City to work despite the fact that his name topped the camp payroll.

TEN days before Christmas she mailed a box to Dick which she took great pleasure in packing. There was the pair of skates he had wanted for years. Eve was sure they would mean more to him this year, perhaps, than at any other time. She shared with him the homemade fruit cake and Christmas cookies her mother had sent her. Kate Bayless' holiday baking took place early in December and she was generous with it. Eve packed a box of candy with a generous supply of the chocolate centered butter, creams of which Dick was so fond. And in the sporting goods department of Bixby's she had found many articles of wearing apparel she felt would make his winter more comfortable. The card which Mrs. Penney designed for her bore the message, "Christmas Love to Dick."

The Saturday night before Christmas she boarded the west-bound train which would carry her to her parents' home, a 12-hour ride distant. She felt she could not endure Christmas alone in Lake City although she knew she should have saved the money spent for railway fare to help pay her debts.

The day before Christmas a telegram for Eve was delivered at Bixby's advertising office. Arlene signed for it.

"From Pine Forest, N. Y., no doubt," she said to Mrs. Penney. "I suppose Eve's husband is wishing her an extra Merry Christmas. He certainly is the answer to a maiden's prayer, and I don't see how Eve dares be so casual about him."

Mrs. Brooks expressed the same sentiment to her oldest son Christmas morning. The radio doorbell had been ringing incessantly for many minutes before her own sounded. She hurried to see who her caller might be and opened the door to face Dick, who stood in hand with a worried look on his face. He all but ignored her Christmas greetings in his haste to ask about Eve.

"Oh, I'm so sorry!" Mrs. Brooks hastened to explain. "Mrs. Rader left to spend Christmas with her parents. Didn't you know?"

"I must have missed her letter telling me she was going," Dick hastened to defend Eve. "I was away from Pine Forest and didn't get my mail for a few days."

Mrs. Brooks had a key to the apartment which she gave Dick. After he had gone she shook her head mournfully. "The poor dear!" she said. "To come all that way for Christmas and then find nobody at home. I'll ask him to dinner."

Dick found himself placed next to Dorothy McElhinney at the dinner table. If he missed the companionship of his wife he suffered nothing from lack of solitude. Miss McElhinney gave him her undivided attention, engaging in a sprightly conversation and causing him to laugh frequently. When the dinner came to an end Dick lingered in the pleasant living room of Mrs. Brooks' suite. Later when Miss McElhinney noticed that he was becoming restless she suggested a walk and directed his footsteps toward the theater district.

"Let's go inside," Dick suggested as they approached the building on which he had worked so long. "I'd like to look up some of my old friends."

Dick placed Miss McElhinney in a seat and then left her while he visited in the manager's office and then went backstage.

After the matinee they followed a throng to a popular Christmas restaurant where they dined and danced. Then it was time for Dick to take the train east. He called a taxicab.

"Someone ought to see you off," Miss McElhinney said sweetly. "I'll ride to the station with you."

And of this experience Dorothy McElhinney made the most. She met Eve in the hall the first evening after her return from home, and with a maliciousness she took little pains to conceal, told her of Dick's arrival and her own part in entertaining him.

"The poor man!" she purred. "I felt so sorry for him. I did my best to make him forget his loneliness."

"I dare say you did," Eve retorted and closed the door abruptly.

DICK'S telegram, lying on Eve's desk when she arrived at the office that morning, had been a shock. Her Christmas at home had been most unsatisfactory, due to the fact that she missed Dick so and none of her relatives seemed to sympathize with her. Women of her mother's type knew but one code after marriage—duty to husband and family.

Eve noticed the ashes in the tray next to Dick's favorite chair. Wearily she sank into the chair and tenderly stroked the arms because Dick had been there so recently. She closed her eyes and tried to picture just how he looked, wondered whether he was thinner, tired and sad looking or

Contrary to popular opinion, bears are no longer protected under the laws of Michigan. Up to Aug. 15 of this year a regular open season was provided for killing bear, but under the amended laws no mention is made of protection for bruin at any time.

Receiving a charge of shot in the face and breast, from the gun of an unknown hunter, Albert LeRoux, a Perreenville boy, was rushed to the hospital at Menominee for treatment, where his condition was critical. He was watching cows grazing in the road, when he was fired upon by a hunter, who fled into the woods.

The daily grist of automobile speeders being haled into court by Motorcop Joseph Carney, has brought about an unusual situation. Henry Sauers, chauffeur for J. R. Andrews, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs of $31.55, or spend nine days in jail for speeding. Atty. I. C. Jennings, appearing for Sauers, refused to permit his client to pay his fine, after it had been announced that Sheriff T. J. Curran would not accept Sauers as a prisoner, because of the sheriff's belief that the city ordinance under which the conviction was obtained, is faulty. City Atty. H. J. Rushton is handling the matter single handed for the city and threatens to bring the sheriff into court to show cause why he should not accept the prisoner. Grant T. Stephenson, of Wells, was also fined $10 for speeding, and promptly appealed the case to the circuit court.

Alvin and Frances Klassell and Ray Garland, have left for Lansing where they will enter M. A. C.

Miss Fern Rolland has returned to Milwaukee to resume her studies at Milwaukee normal school.

TOLERANCE

Remember this, when judging men,
When judging humankind,
We're wrong a little, even when
We're surest in our mind.
In ev'ry man there is some good.
In ev'ry man some ill.
The wrong, I wish we understood,
Are right a little still.

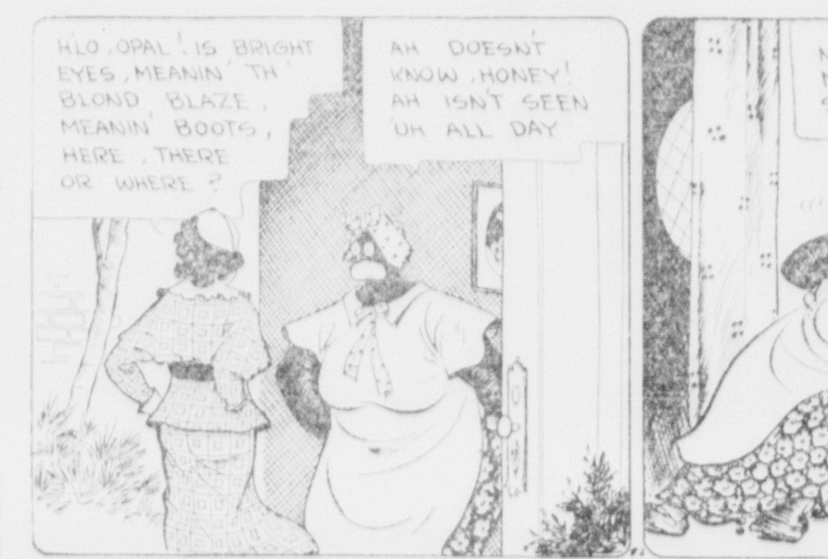

Whatever question we debate,
Whatever names we call,
The humble are a little great,
The great a little small.
The wisest are the tolerant,
The tolerant the wise.
The greatest fools the arrogant,
Who close their ears and eyes.

There is some truth in ev'ry book,
Some truth in ev'ry speech,
And we must listen, we must look,
Must learn as well as teach.
Let me remember day and night,
Remember all along,
No man is ever wholly right,
Or ever wholly wrong.

Small Pickles
Cucumber Rings
Are Good Recipes

The secret of pickle making lies in obtaining a correct bacterial action in one respect and at the same time preventing the bacterial action which causes spoilage and softening. Salt has been found to be the most efficient agent for this purpose and every recipe for pickles uses salt in some form in large amounts.

Small pickles known as gherkins always are in demand and they are very easy to make if the housewife is willing to take the time.

Gherkins

Two quarts small cucumbers, 2 cups salt, 2 quarts boiling water, 2 quarts vinegar, 2 ounces mixed pickling spices, 2 tea spoons powdered alum, 2 cups brown sugar, 1/2 cup sliced horseradish root.

Choose very small cucumbers of uniform size. Be careful not to bruise or mar the cucumbers. Wash carefully and not dry between towels. Put into a deep crock and pour over brine made by dissolving salt in boiling water. Let stand twenty-four hours. Drain and wipe cucumbers. Cover with boiling water in which alum has been dissolved and let stand six hours. Drain from alum water and rinse in clear water. Combine vinegar, sugar, spices and horseradish root and heat to the boiling point. Add cucumbers and simmer ten minutes. Pack in hot sterilized jars, pour over hot vinegar to cover and seal.

Cucumber Rings

Eight or ten 4 to 6 inch cucumbers, 1 ounce stick cinnamon, 1 ounce whole cloves, 1 ounce whole allspice, 1 ounce celery seed, 3 pounds brown sugar, 3 pints cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon powdered alum.

Make a strong brine as in preceding recipe. Wash and wipe cucumbers and let stand in brine or three days. Keep covered with a large plate. Drain from brine and let stand in clear water over night. Drain. Add alum—equal parts of vinegar and water and let cucumbers simmer in this solution for two hours. Drain and cool and throw away vinegar solution. Cut cucumbers in inch rings and pack in a deep crock. Combine sugar, vinegar, and spices and bring to the boiling point. Pour boiling hot over the cucumber slices and let stand over night. In the morning drain off vinegar, reheat and pour back over cucumbers. Do this three times. The fourth morning pack cucumbers in sterilized jars, scald vinegar and pour boiling hot over cucumbers. Seal and store in a dark, cool place.

Spiced Pears Add Enjoyment To Winter Meals

If you have a pear tree in your back yard or you find a bargain in market try these recipes for good things for next winter. Spiced pears are splendid to serve with winter roasts and stews. Pears conserve is a delectable preserve to serve with hot rolls or toast and ginger pears fill in any place and are very easy to make.

Ginger Pears
Nine pounds pears, 6 pounds granulated sugar, 4 cups water, 4 lemons, 6 ounces crystallized ginger.

Pare fruit and cut in thin slices, removing core. Drop into a weak salt-water solution to prevent discoloring. Drain from salt water and add to boiling syrup made with sugar and water. Simmer until fruit begins to look clear around the edges and add the grated rind of 2 lemons and juice of all four. Add ginger cut in tiny bits and simmer until mixture is thick and pears are transparent. Put into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with a thin layer of paraffine. When cold cover with more paraffine. Store in a dark cool place.

Spiced Pears
Six pounds pears, 5 cups light brown sugar, 2 cups cider vinegar, 1/4 cup broken stick cinnamon and whole cloves mixed.

Pare pears, before weighing. Place in a crock alternately with layers of sugar. If the pears are quite large they should be cut in halves and cored. Pour over vinegar and let stand over night. Drain off liquid and add the spices tied in a cheesecloth bag. Bring to the boiling point and boil five minutes. Add pears and simmer until tender but not broken or soft. Pack in hot sterilized jars and pour over boiling syrup to cover. Seal at once.

If the vinegar is very "sharp" it should be diluted with water.

Pear Conserve
Five pounds pears, 5 pounds granulated sugar, 1 cup water, 1 pound raisins, 3 lemons, 2 oranges, 1 1/2 cups nut meats.

Pare pears, remove cores and cut in thin slices. Put water and pears into preserving kettle and bring to the boiling point. Sift in sugar and simmer until the fruit is tender. Add raisins, seeded, thinly sliced rind and juice of oranges and lemons, bring to the boiling point and simmer 30 minutes. Add nuts and cook ten minutes longer. Pour into sterilized glasses and cover with paraffine. Cover with a second layer of paraffine when cold.

Berry Pie Is Still Favorite Among Desserts

There is something so old fashioned and appetizing about a berry pie—it fits in so well with the season that the wise housekeeper will find her popularity steadily increasing if she serves this delectable dessert often.

Naturally a pie is only as good as its crust, so if you are not already proficient in the gentle art of pastry making suppose you try the following recipe for greater success.

Master Pastry Recipe
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
Cold water
Sift the dry ingredients together, add the shortening, mixing with a fork and finger tips, until the mixture is of a mealy consistency. Add water very slowly until the mixture is sufficiently moistened to hold together. Use as little water as possible. Roll dough on a floured board until one-eighth inch thick. Fit loosely on a pie plate, trim edges and prick with a fork. Bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes if the crust is to be used as a pie shell. The above recipe will make pie shell and top. Use one-half for pie shell only.

Cherry Pie
1 quart sour pitted cherries
1/2 to 3/4 cups sugar
1/4 cup flour
Prepare pastry. Mix above ingredients together and put into lower crust. Cover with top crust which should be pierced with a fork. Bake in hot oven for 15 minutes, reduce temperature and bake 20 minutes more.

Other Berry Pies
3 cups blueberries, huckleberries, blackberries, raspberries or gooseberries
2 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
Prepare pastry as directed. Line lower crust. Mix fruit with flour, sugar and salt. Cover with top crust or lattice strips. Bake in hot oven for ten minutes, reduce temperature and bake for twenty minutes more.

Cherry Filling
3 cups seeded cherries
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup water
2 tablespoons butter
1-4 teaspoon cinnamon
Blend cherries, sugar, flour and salt. Add rest of ingredients and cook slowly 10 minutes. Cool and serve poured in little pastry cases.

Hot Breads Easy To Turn Out Add Variety To Meal

Although delicious bakery goods and ready-to-bake biscuits are available there still remains a particularly inviting "home made" taste and thrill to hot breads served from your own kitchen. Many women are afraid to try their hand at breads and biscuits when they will approach a difficult task of most recipes with perfect aplomb. If you'll try some of these recipes you'll find that, after all, bread and biscuit making can be a simple art.

Whole Wheat Muffins
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
1 to 1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
If sour milk is used add 1/2 teaspoon soda. Mix all dry ingredients and mix all liquids. Combine and bake. 1 Tablespoon sugar may be added if desired.

Date Bread
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup nuts
1 1/4 cup or a little more flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 level teaspoon soda
1 cup dates
1 cup boiling water
Dissolve level teaspoon soda in cup of boiling water. Pour over cup of diced dates. The creamed butter and sugar are then added. Add some of the flour, then the eggs, beaten, the salt and the balance of the flour with nuts. Bake in moderate oven.

Prune Nut Bread
2 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup brown sugar
1 egg well beaten
1 cup boiling water
2 cups chopped prunes
1 cup chopped nuts
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
Sprinkle prunes with soda then pour boiling water over them and let stand till cold. Cream shortening and sugar, add egg, then prune mixture. Add flour, salt and nuts. Bake in slow oven until done. This bread is rich enough to serve in place of cake.

Egg Dumplings
Three cups flour, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 5 tablespoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons shortening, 1 egg, milk. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in shortening with two knives. Beat egg with one-third cup milk and cut into dry ingredients, adding more milk if necessary to make a soft dough. Put on a lightly floured molding board and roll into a sheet about one inch thick. Cut in squares and drop in boiling stew.

Grange Aids Project
Iron Mountain. With an estimate that a million or more persons who formerly resided in the cities have turned to the farm during the last year to provide a livelihood, the various grange groups in this and other sections of the country are showing keen interest in the new problem of rural life, according to A. W. Thompson, of Iron Mountain, for many years one of the most active grange workers in the upper peninsula of Michigan.

Dickinson county has one active grange at Wauchedah and, according to Thompson, "one good, live grange in a community is sufficient to serve its needs providing the area is not too large."

Nutritive Value Of Picnic Menu Is Important

Too often picnic menus are planned in a haphazard fashion with an unbalanced meal as the result. If these careless meals are repeated frequently, much damage can be done to the digestion.

Unfortunately, it's the children who are the chief sufferers at picnics because their needs are seldom considered. The same principles of nutrition must be kept in mind whether a family dinner is being planned or luncheon is being selected from a menu card in a restaurant.

Importance of Sandwiches
The picnic composed of sandwiches, fruit and a drink is the easiest meal to plan. The sandwiches do duty for the "main dish" and must be high in food value and easy to digest.

A menu which is a hot more elaborate adds a salad to the sandwiches and little cakes or cookies to the fruit. Here again the sandwiches may be the chief source of protein, although a meat or fish salad may be chosen and vegetable sandwiches provided. If hearty sandwiches are planned, then the salad should furnish bulk, mineral constituents and vitamins as well as adding piquancy and interest to the meal. Always choose a salad which carries well, for unless the dish is attractive it's a doubtful addition to the repast.

Carrying Hot Dishes
The picnic planned to take the place of dinner at home adds a hot dish to the salad and sandwich menu. The hot dish might well be a "one-piece" concoction which combines vegetables and meat.

White Frosting
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons hot cream
1-2 teaspoon vanilla
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-1-2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar

Mix ingredients and beat well. Let stand several minutes and then beat until creamy and frost cake.

Chili Sauce
2 quarts ripe tomatoes
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped green peppers
1/2 cups sugar
2 cups vinegar
1 tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
2 tablespoons celery seed
1 tablespoon white mustard seed
Wash and peel tomatoes. Chop well, draining off juice. Add to rest of ingredients and cook slowly one hour or until mixture thickens. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

Quick Rolls
One yeast cake, 1/2 cup sweet milk scalded and cooled, 1/2 cup lukewarm water, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 scant teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lard, 3 1/2 cups flour. Dissolve yeast in warm liquid, add sugar and half of flour and lard, beat well, add salt and rest of flour. Roll out and cut with biscuit cutter. Place in greased baking pan slight distance apart. Let rise two hours and bake in hot oven ten minutes.

Headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sallow complexions, and sleeplessness are often warning signs of common constipation. Unless checked, constipation may impair health.

Today, you can get rid of common constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. ALL-BRAN is also a good source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears the intestines of wastes. How much better than taking patent medicines.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. Serious cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

meat. Macaroni or rice combination dishes are also suitable. Scalloped tomatoes with bacon, scalloped cauliflower in cheese sauce, combination of vegetables with meat cooked in a casserole stuffed baked vegetables—the dishes are legion that are acceptable for such a meal. These mixtures are satisfactorily carried in the dish in which they were baked and can be kept hot several hours if wrapped in many thicknesses of newspaper if one of the wide-mouthed vacuum jugs is not available.

Sometimes it seems advisable to carry the salad ingredients in separate containers and combine them when ready to serve. A closely covered tin pail keeps lettuce deliciously crisp. The dressing can be carried in a glass jar and the other materials packed in paper containers which can be destroyed when empty.

If you can carry a watermelon, it makes a refreshing dessert and acts as a thirst quencher as well.

Ice cream packed in a vacuum freezer at home or commercially packed in "dry" ice always is popular for dessert at a picnic.

Figures Uncle Sam Missing Chance For Real Import Duties

That Uncle Sam is missing a chance to cash in on a very substantial manner in import duties is the belief of W. L. Herron, for 30 years customs inspector at Grand Rapids. Mr. Herron is here with his wife, guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kurnert.

Clocks and pulp wood are the two items in which the officer is especially interested, although he suggested that he had not made a wide range of study in tariffs. Clock works have been coming in from Germany to the Zealand factory for a good many years. The works, made partly from American products bought in this country and shipped to Germany, were shipped to the Zealand factory under an import duty of $3 for a clock worth $10 or over plus 45 per cent ad valorem. Under that rate the company paid the U. S. government more than $30,000 annually. The new rate called for a specific tax plus 45 per cent ad valorem has had the effect of practically closing the factory. Not only the Zealand workmen out of jobs, but the country is losing the $30,000 and the producers of the clock materials are without the German market.

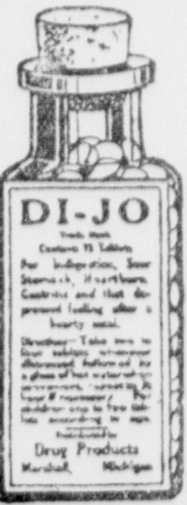

Pulp Wood

On the other hand pulp wood is allowed to come in duty free. Norway, Sweden and other northern European countries are shipping sulphite pulp wood on European boats directly to South Haven and delivering it at a cost one fourth of what would be the shipment by rail. The growth of the trade has continued all through the depression. Three years ago 3 ships from Norway landed at the South Haven docks with their pulp cargoes, two years ago there were 14, last year 56, and the number will be well over 100 this season. Mr. Herron believes. The officer does not believe it would be wise to put on a tariff so high that, like the clocks, the trade would be killed. But he does believe that a small fee, say 10 cents per bale, would bring in a nice revenue, amounting to around $1,200 on single cargoes. China clay comes to the South Haven port from England. This earth is used in solution for the glaze on the calendar papers and a little goes a long way. On this material the U. S. collects about $3,000 from a single cargo.

Mr. and Mrs. Herron are making a trip through the upper peninsula, down the west coast of Lake Michigan and on to Chicago. They have attended the Century of Progress for several days but want another visit there. They report business in general on the up-grade, slowed up in some instances because of the uncertainty.

les about codes and conditions, but generally much better. They have been life-long friends of the Kurnerts, both being former school teachers of Mrs. Kurnert.

WAR MEMORIAL

The Hugh Allen Melhus Post, American Legion, is placing a six inch trench howitzer on the corner of Newberry and Truman avenues, on the grounds of the community building. The howitzer was received from the U. S. government for the cost of freight. Commander Lawrence Redmond, appointed a committee comprised of Jack Mahar, Harry Frasier, Pete Swanson, Lisle Murdoch and Archie McDonald to have charge of getting the gun and constructing a proper base for it. Concrete is being used and a neat, good looking job will result.

NRA EXPERT TO COME

Dr. Glenn Blackburn of the history department of Northern State Teachers' college, will be in Newberry on Monday night as the guest speaker of the Lions club and will talk on the NRA. Dr. Blackburn has been appointed by the Marquette Chamber of Commerce to work with the Marquette people on codes and other items in connection with the Reconstruction Act and will be prepared to answer questions.

RAPID RIVER

Nelson Funeral
Rapid River, Sept. 22. Funeral services for Miss Jennie Nelson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson of Rapid River, who passed away at the family home Thursday morning after a protracted illness of two years, will be held Monday afternoon at Bethany Evangelical Lutheran church at Whitefish at 1:30 o'clock, with Rev. C. E. Olson of Gladstone officiating.

Burial will be in the family lot in the cemetery at Marquette, where her brother, Glenn, is at rest. Glenn passed away two years ago following complications that followed an attack of the flu. During his illness Jennie, who was a registered nurse, came home to take care of her brother. She returned to Chicago to resume her duties at Augustana hospital, but was there but a short time, having suffered a breakdown. She then returned here and had been confined to her bed the greater part of the time. She was of a most lovable disposition, always cheerful, and up to the end she was always "fine," when asked how she was feeling. Never despondent, but always smiling and happy regardless of pain or suffering.

The body was returned to the home from the parlors of Swenson Brothers, morticians, Gladstone.

Sister In Detroit Says Staley Alive

Latest developments in regard to the mysterious disappearance of Frank "Dewey" Staley of Sault Ste. Marie, a former resident of this city, who has been missing for the past two weeks, are that Staley is alive and that he had visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. Louise Smith, in Detroit, since he left the Sault. The story which appeared in the Sault Evening News, is as follows:

"Sheriff Willard Welsh today was convinced that Frank 'Dewey' Staley did not meet with foul play. He said he received a letter from Mrs. Louise Smith of Detroit, a sister of Staley, which contained the information that Staley had been at her home Friday, September 9.

"Staley, who has a wife and family, disappeared after a beer party the night of Sept. 7. The following day he was seen walking on US-2 towards St. Ignace by Felix Tavern. This fact was disclosed by Tavern after George Staley, the man's father, asked for a search for his son's body.

"The investigating officers were not fully convinced of his safety until the letter was received telling of his appearance in Detroit. The letter stated Staley had left Detroit intending to come to the Sault."

John Brain, of Germfask, who has been critically ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooper, is improving splendidly.

You must see it for yourself. "Wonderful thought of a master mind."

Masterful work of a master hand. This beautiful work, and all of its kind.

Oh when, oh when, shall we understand."

PHILLIP GOUIN PASSES FRIDAY

Broken Hip Sustained in Auto Accident Proves Fatal to Aged Man

Phillip Gouin, 71, passed away at the county infirmary early yesterday morning as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident on the evening of September 1.

Mr. Gouin, who was more commonly known as Felix, was struck by an automobile, driven by Maurice Reid at the intersection of Deer and North Second street, resulting in a broken pelvis and cuts and bruises about the head, face and body. At that time his condition was pronounced as critical. Up until Thursday, when his condition took a turn for the worse, Mr. Gouin was reported as recuperating nicely.

The unfortunate accident happened as Mr. Gouin was crossing Deer street on his way to the infirmary. Reid, whom eye witnesses said was driving at a moderate rate of speed, saw Mr. Gouin, but the latter evidently became confused as the car approached. After hitting Gouin, Reid stopped his car within a few feet. The deceased is said to have been partially deaf and his eyesight impaired. Police officials at that time advised Reid of any blame and no further inquiry is expected to be made.

The deceased was born in Canada and had been a resident of this city for over forty years. Prior to 1926 when he was admitted to the infirmary, Mr. Gouin was employed as a laborer in local

Young Authors Score Successes
In Writing for Motion Pictures

BY DAN THOMAS

Hollywood. If you would write for the movies, get started while you're young. At least that would seem to be the idea, judging from some of our most successful screen stories which have been authored by persons in their twenties or even younger.

The outstanding example is Noel Coward, who at the age of 23 has turned out "Cavalcade," "Private Lives," "Design for Living," in addition to many other legitimate plays which have not yet been adapted for the screen.

John Monk Saunders wrote "Wings" before he was 30 and in a few succeeding years turned out "The Dawn Patrol," "The Last Flight," "The Eagle and the Hawk" and numerous other successful film stories. Vina Delmar was only 25 when she wrote "Bad Girl."

Laurence Stallings wrote "The Big Parade" and "What Price Glory?" before he was 35. "She Done Him Wrong" came from Mae West's pen before she reached 30. Gene Fowler was responsible for "The Great Monthpiece" and "What Price Hollywood?" while still in his thirties.

Ben Hecht and Charles McArthur both were under 40 when they wrote "The Front Page" and Hecht was several years younger when he turned out "Underworld."

And from there on the list grows. Of course that doesn't mean that all stories by young authors are acceptable but they do seem to have the edge.

And now Jack Oakie arises to remark that he wishes he were a business man so that he could be a paid business man—as it is he's just tired.

Kind-Hearted Ann

Ann Dvorak claims credit for being the first person in the world to hatch a wild bird in incubator fashion.

After laying two eggs and sitting on them for several days a mother wren deserted her nest because she was frightened by the sprinkler system in Ann's yard. So Ann took the eggs, wrapped them in cotton and placed them under an electric light. Seven days later one of them hatched.

Ann still is feeding the baby bird—its diet consisting of milk, flies and ants.

GIRARD TO BIRL
AT WORLD FAIR

Leaves Today for Two-Weeks Exhibition
Engagement

William F. "Billy" Girard, world champion trick and fancy log roller and former holder of the straight birling title, will demonstrate the almost lost art of the olden day rivermen at the World's Fair in Chicago.

Girard will leave for Chicago today and will make his first appearance on Sunday. He is scheduled to appear for a period of two weeks and if the attraction proves popular there is a possibility that it will be continued for a longer time.

Ed Clark of Niles, Mich., who does a clown act on the spinning log will probably work as Girard's partner. All of the different types of birling, straight, trick and fancy, will be shown and several novel stunts, including a log sawing contest while the log is floating in water, are planned.

All of the events will be exhibitional and no title competition will be held, according to information received by Girard. Earlier it was planned to stage a tournament for the world's title, but plans fell through.

The birling exhibition has been arranged under the direction of Monte J. Wax of Los Angeles, Calif. Girard stated yesterday that he has been informed that Wax is considering introducing the sport to the southern states during the winter months and if this is done several other engagements for the local birler are in sight.

THEATRES

"King of Jazz" opens at the Rialto Theatre at the 11 p. m. preview and continues Sunday and Monday.

This revival of the most popular of the music extravaganzas of three years ago is an interesting indication of a mood which is sweeping over the movies and the country.

Moving pictures have always been regarded as a necessity by the powers that be. During the war, their province in maintaining morale back home was essential. During these times, comedy has been the predominating note, but it is really the times which are bringing back musicals to the place they once occupied. Sophisticated pictures seem to be all right during prosperity, but now people desire to amuse themselves with merry and melodious fare. "King of Jazz" is mighty timely.

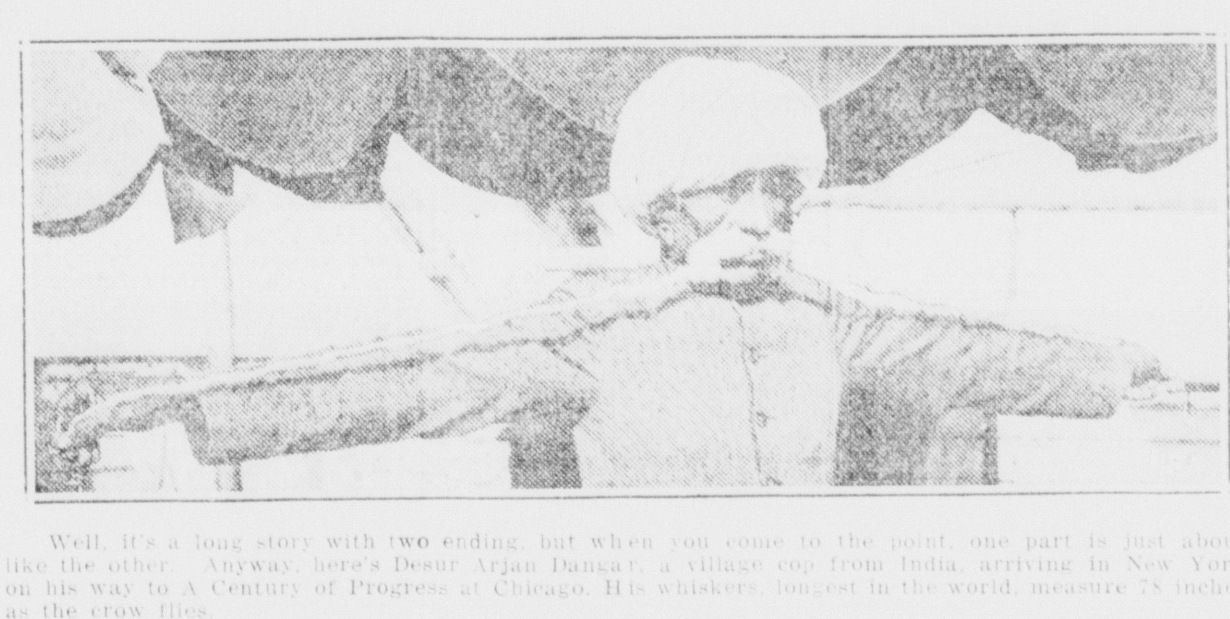

As soon as Carl Laemmle was convinced of this trend, he took steps to revive, re-edit and re-print the famous "King of Jazz," starring Paul Whiteman and directed by John Murray Anderson. Its place in the hearts of music lovers has never been taken by any other picture, and its return will be welcomed by every moving picture lover in this city.

Many of the singers and dancers and performers who were not stars at the time "King of Jazz" was first produced, reached stardom because of their work. These lucky players include Jeanie Lang, Bing Crosby, Nell O'Day and Jack Fulton.

Legionnaires to Conduct
Big Drive Next
Two Weeks

A big membership drive will be staged by August Mattson Post of the American Legion during the coming two weeks. It was announced yesterday by Commander A. D. Aiguire. To increase the local post membership to 100 is the goal set by officers.

The present members will be divided into two "armies" or teams and the contest will be put on a competitive basis. Roe Boyer and Eugene Noblet, vice commanders, have been named to lead the opposing forces.

The drive is to be climaxed by a big hunt on Sunday, Oct. 8, during which game will be secured for a dinner which the losing army will put on for the winners.

A point system will probably be used in deciding the winning army. So many points will be allowed for the signature of a new member and each new member may choose some friend to assist in the hunt. Points will be allowed for each fowl or animal killed and contributed towards the dinner, probably 10 for a rabbit, 15 for a partridge and 20 for a prairie chicken, and these may also be counted in determining the winning team.

Eskymos Open Season Today Against Manistique

LOCAL PLAYERS EAGER FOR TILT

Light But Gritty, Nordberg Says About His Team

The 1933 Eskymo football team will make its bow to the Escanaba public at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, facing Manistique in the football opener at the Escanaba athletic field. A preliminary game between two junior high school elevens will take the field at 1:30.

Coach Nordberg of the Eskymos refused to make any prediction about the possible outcome of the game this afternoon but he did assert that his boys are in good condition and will be fighting all the way.

Having already played one game this year, Manistique will have some advantage over the inexperienced and untried Eskymo athletes. The Schoolcrafters opened their schedule with Kingsford on Saturday, losing a 6 to 0 decision that was hard to take. Manistique lost several scoring opportunities in that game but it is unlikely that the errors made against Kingsford will be repeated against the Eskymos this afternoon.

The Escanaba team will be comparatively light, averaging 154 pounds, but Coach Nordberg figures the team will make up in speed and alertness what is missing through lack of weight.

The starting lineup for Escanaba was announced last night by Coach Nordberg as follows: Jensen, end; Roeder, tackle; Kraus, guard; L. Peterson, center; Touseach, guard; Chase, tackle; Carlton, end; Alproyitz, quarterback; Finman, halfback; Malcomson, fullback and Olmsted, halfback.

Finman, veteran halfback and 1932 captain, is expected to carry much of the ball carrying burden but Olmsted, 175 pound running mate, has displayed enough talent to convince many fans that he will be one of the bulwarks of the Escanaba offense this year. Olmsted is a capable kicker and is expected to do most of the punting for the local team against Manistique.

Finman, who also has been developing as a punter and probably will do some of the kicking against the Schoolcrafters.

Just what can be depended upon from the Escanaba line is problematical but Coach Nordberg has faith that the boys will hold their own against the opposition.

In Richib, Manistique boasts a veteran ball toter who has done much to permit the Schoolcrafters to forget Eckdahl, Manistique's great back of past years.

Passing may play a major part in the outcome of today's game and both teams have prepared for this. Pass attacks and pass defense of the two teams have been given a thorough overhauling during the practice sessions the past week.

Indicating from fan interest in regard to the opening game, a large crowd will witness the battle which is a Northern Nine conference game. Season tickets, both students and adults have moved quite rapidly but many good reserved seats still remain for the customers.

Season tickets which entitle the holders to reserved seats for all of the six home games at reduced cost can purchase them, both students and adults, at the Escanaba gym.

Frank Judish of Stambaugh will referee the game; T. J. Barry of Kingsford will umpire and W. J. Finch of Marquette will be head linesman.

Only Four Left In State Pro Tourney

Detroit, Sept. 22 (AP)—Leo Fraser, the Saginaw pro who won medal honors in the qualifying round, stayed in the running with two match-play victories today in the Michigan Professional Golfers' association championship, but Mottie Dutra, the Michigan open champion, fell by the wayside.

Fraser scored a 7 and 6 triumph over Clarence Warhurst in his morning round, then conquered Joe Devany in the afternoon, 4 and 3.

Dutra survived the morning round, taking the measure of Orm Beaupre, 6 and 5, but fell before the stroking of Joe Belfiore in the afternoon, one up in 23 holes. A birdie four on the fifth extra hole gave Detroit Country Club assistance in the match. Belfiore clipped to within 18 inches of the cup on his third shot and Dutra, who already had taken four strokes, conceded the putt.

Al Watrous, the defending champion, served notice that he intended to fight to the last ditch by scoring two victories. He defeated Tommy Filmore 3 and 2 in the morning, then downed Stanley Hancock 4 and 3 in the afternoon match.

Clarence Gamber was the other survivor of the day's two rounds. He eliminated Bob and Dutra, 4 and 3 in the morning and defeated Benno Pantke 2 and 1 in the afternoon.

Football in Colleges Takes Spotlight Today

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Football, the big brother of the college sports world, opens his week into the national spotlight this week with a program officially inaugurating the 1933 season.

Despite the hot weather, the approaching world series and the short pre-season practice, a surprising number of hard games were down for decision tonight and tomorrow, notably the West Virginia-Washington and Lee battle at Charleston, W. Va., and the Santa Clara-California game at Berkeley.

Brisk warmup games were listed for many of the "big fellows" in nearly every section, including Au-

KIPKE WANTS MORE ACTION

Veteran Players Fooling Around, Michigan Coach Charges

Ann Arbor, Sept. 22 (AP)—The veteran regulars whose places on the 1933 Michigan football team are regarded as certain, heard words of biting sarcasm from Head Coach Harry Kipke today for not hustling as he thinks they should. Usually soft spoken Kipke ordered them to "tend to business and quit fooling around." Blocking dummies were brought out and a drill on running ways occupied most of the afternoon practice.

Kipke also spent considerable time with a quartet of his punters, John Regecki, Herman Everhardus, Jack Heston and Russ Oliver. With a light wind at his back Regecki was booting the ball 70 to 80 yards consistently. All four of the kickers appeared to be reaching mid-season form. Everhardus also tried some kick off and most of his boots landed beyond the goal line.

The Wolverines will be given their second hard trial of the practice session in a formal scrimmage Saturday afternoon, which also will be the final public showing of Maize and Blue talent before the opening game with Michigan State on Oct. 7.

Kipke announced today that Tage (Big Jake) Jacobson, 214-pound tackle, will be out of practice for the next few days because of a slight illness. Jacobson is rated as one of the best replacements for Tom Austin and Whitely Wistert, regular tackles in the Michigan line. Mike Malashevich, a sophomore end who has been on the injured list most of the week, returned to uniform today but avoided any rough work. He probably will be withheld from the scrimmage Saturday.

Roosevelt Plans To See Series Game

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt joined with Washington today in acknowledging the winning of the American league pennant by the Washington team.

He told friends "it is all to the good" and gave notice he would get to the world's series between Washington and the New York Giants.

He will go to at least one game in Washington but has made no final plans for the series.

With his old home town winning the National league and his new city capturing the American league pennant the president has a problem on just who to support. He said he guessed he would have to sit on both sides of the field at once.

ST. JOE PLAYS AT SOO TODAY

Parochials Face Tough Foe for Opening Game of Year

Facing one of the toughest foes they will be called upon to meet all season, the St. Joseph high school football squad will open their 1933 season against the Soo Blue Devils at the Lock City this afternoon.

The Parochials traveled to the Soo by motor yesterday afternoon in plenty of time to get a good rest before the battle gets under way today. The Parochials have gone through 18 consecutive games in the past years without a defeat, and would like to increase that string by turning back the Blue Devils today. Even the most rabid Parochials fans, however, concede that the St. Joseph record is in for the acid test against Coach Crane's outfit this afternoon.

Coach Carr of the Parochials said before he left for the Soo with his proteges that he is not certain just how strong his team really is and could make no prediction regarding the possible outcome of the Soo game. While the boys have shown up remarkably well in practice sessions, the team in practically its entirety is inexperienced.

The St. Joseph squad is expected to resort primarily to an overhead attack in an effort to make progress against the Crane-men's defense. While the local boys have spent much time on their running game, their pass attack has received considerable attention also.

Coach Carr announced his starting lineup Thursday night as follows:

GRIDODOLOGY

A Football Series Designed to Aid the New Fan

The fair catch in football is inserted in the rules as a safety measure by the receiving team and is optional with the player receiving the ball.

On a kicked ball, the fair catch rule permits the receiver to catch the ball without being tackled by his opponents. The receiver, however, must signal by raising his hand clearly above his head prior to attempting to catch the ball. After receiving the ball, the player who made the fair catch is permitted two steps to regain his balance. If he takes more than the allowed two steps, it is a foul and his team is penalized five yards.

When a player has an opportunity to make a fair catch, opponents can not interfere with him or the ball, even though they may be eligible to recover the ball. The penalty is loss of 15 yards for the offending team to have the fair catch whether or not the ball was caught.

A muffed ball which touches the ground is a free ball and the rules governing the fair catch do not apply, except, as stated above, when there is interference on the opportunity to make the fair catch.

It must be borne in mind that whenever there is an opportunity for a fair catch, the opposing team must not interfere with this opportunity. Any interference is penalized even if the receiver did not signal for the fair catch.

After a fair catch the ball may be put in play at the mark of the catch by a free kick or scrimmage. The field captain of the team making the fair catch has the privilege of electing the method of putting the ball in play. His choice is not revocable.

If the team captain chooses to put the ball in play by a free kick following a fair catch, his team must punt, drop-kick or place-kick the ball from the mark of the fair catch or from a point directly back of the mark.

The free kick can also be elected after a safety has been scored, and, in this event, the ball is kicked from any point on the 20-yard line or back of it by the team who has had the safety scored against it.

On a free kick, the teams line up exactly as they do on kickoff formation, except that the restraining line for the kicking team is the mark of the catch for the fair catch or after safety has been scored, the restraining line is the 20 yard line.

The restraining line for the receiving team on a free kick after a fair catch is a point ten yards in advance of the mark of the fair catch. Thus there is ten yard neutral zone between members of the kicking team and members of the receiving team.

If, on a free kick, the ball is place-kicked or drop-kicked, between the goal posts and above the crossbar, a field goal has been scored and three points are credited to the kicking team.

A placekick is accomplished when the ball is held to the ground by one member of the kicking team and kicked from the ground by another member of the team. A dropkick is accomplished when one player who holds the ball in his hands, permits it to drop to the ground and then kicks the ball after it has rebounded from the ground.

Like the kickoff play, after a ball has advanced ten yards or past the opponents' restraining line, it becomes a free ball and any member of either team is eligible to recover it. However, any member of the receiving team can run with the ball, pass it backward or kick it, but if the ball is recovered by a member of the kicking team, it is dead and can not be advanced.

The practice sessions today were of a light nature. The growing list of injuries, none of which are rated particularly serious, was one reason for the let down. Bachman also desired to spend more time on defensive drills and polishing up the passing and running attack.

Giants' Hurlers May Surprise Washington

(This is the first of a series of stories analyzing rivals for world's baseball championship.)

BY EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Just what has this brilliant four man pitching staff of Carl Hubbell, Hal Schumacher, Freddy Fitzsimmons and Roy Parmelee got that the Giants could win so steadily through the National league and come down to the world series with the Washington Senators almost even money to win?

The answer comes from players who have hit against them from men like Coaches Tom Clark and Frank Snyder, old time catchers who have helped in their development, and experts who have watched them day in and day out through a trying pennant race. In tabloid form it goes like this:

Hubbell is Wizard. Carl Hubbell, southpaw—a baffling "screw ball," the only piteh of his kind in the major leagues today. Clark, who saw Christy Mathewson's fadeaway, says Hubbell's screw ball is almost identical. It's a knee high ball that breaks down and away from a right hand hitter, exactly opposite to the normal curve of a left hander. Hubbell throws it nine out of ten pitches, but he has a sweeping natural curve he uses chiefly against left handed batters. He seldom throws a fast ball. His control is almost perfect.

Hal Schumacher, right hander—his favorite is an overhand sinker, also unique. He sets it by snapping his entire arm like a whip, the ball comes up low, then drops straight down as though it had rolled off a table. Hitters have been tipping it all season, rolling into easy double plays. When the sinker isn't working, Schumacher usually is belted out swiftly. The strain of the pitch has tired his arm greatly. He needs considerable rest.

Freddy Fitzsimmons, right hander—another fellow with a low ball, the hitters say, no one else possesses a fast knuckler. He's John McGraw's choice as pitching hero of the series, a veteran whose only weakness is a tendency to irritation and loss of effectiveness if something goes wrong behind him. He's a heady pitcher, but has shown a tendency to the lately.

Leroy Parmelee, right hander—suffering right now from a slight case of "nerves" because his fireball, which jumps upward, has broken bones in the hand or arm of Randy Moore, of the Braves, and Stanley Hack, of the Cubs, both left hand hitters, in the past month. Both Terry and McGraw believe he'll be the greatest pitcher in baseball someday. He lacks just enough control and guile to make him a doubtful starter now.

Lefty Watson, Clark, old Adol to Luque, and Herman Bell probably will see action. Clark with a fine curve ball and speed but ill mull of the time with sinus trouble, will get another chance to win a place as a possible series starter. The veteran Luque has a fine down curve and control. Bell has a four inning complex, both are relief pitchers.

Arguing pitching, all of the Giants' players emphasize that the Senator are high ball hitters, while all the Giant pitchers are low ball batters. Hubbell's screw ball, Fitz's fast knuckler, Schumacher's sinker, all are new to American league batsmen.

Escanaba Children Hurt In School Bus

Four school children were injured, none seriously, when Escanaba city school bus No. 2 figured in an automobile accident at 7:40 a. m. Friday. A police report of the accident said that the bus, driven by Oscar Berglund, was going east on Sixth avenue south when it collided with a truck driven by Otto Schriber at the intersection with Fifteenth street. The truck was going north on Fifteenth. The children listed as injured were: Melvin Olson, Jeanette Doucette, Mildred Peterson and Vivian Anderson. Mildred Peterson, 12, Lake Shore Drive, was taken to St. Francis hospital for an X-ray examination and returned to her home.

AMUSEMENTS

"Three Cornered Moon" and "Big Executive" are the titles of the double feature program to be shown at Delft again today.

"Three-Cornered Moon" is most delightful because of the clever way in which it pokes fun, not so much at the depression, as at a wealthy family which goes broke because of the depression, as so many have.

Madcap, gay, frivolous and as "screwed" as the name they bear, the Rimplegears, a typical American family, get in one jam after another much to their consternation but to your amusement. To the accompaniment of gales of laughter, they lose their entire fortune because "Ma" Rimplegear just couldn't get to the broker; the kids are forced to "work," of all things, and the time comes when they even go hungry. But with all their troubles, those worry-marks are erased from your forehead, and once again you laugh. And how!

The doors have been torn down and the spot light turned full blast on the most intimate phases of an executive's affairs, in the Paramount picture, "Big Executive," which opened yesterday at the Delft Theatre.

Ricardo Cortez, Elizabeth Young and Richard Bennett enact the principal roles. Sharon Lynne, Dorothy Peterson and Barton MacLane appear in the strong supporting cast.

The story, a fast-moving drama of America's big money lane, was adapted to the screen by Laurence Stallings, who retains the terrific punch of Alice Duer Miller's original story. Its fast tempo and smart dialogue smack strongly of Stallings' screen play of "What Price Glory?"
